To Whom It May Concern:

My name is Aaron Ayers and I am the Dean of Student Learning for Ivy Collegiate Academy in Taichung, Taiwan. I am very pleased to be asked to write this letter of recommendation for Aaron Foster. He is a fine teacher and coach for Ivy Collegiate Academy.

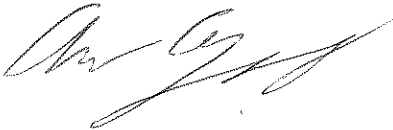

My primary contact with Mr. Foster is to supervise his duties as a classroom teacher when a student with special needs is in the classroom. Aaron is student centered in his approach to teaching and is an excellent role model. He provides an atmosphere of structure and discipline to his students with concepts that are important to the gaining of knowledge and character. Areas in which young people all too often do not learn at home. He is concerned about his students as human beings, not just as students in his class.

Aaron demonstrates excellent communication skills and does an exceptional job of teaching the values of commitment and reliability. These are values that are important to success in all phases of life. Aaron demonstrates a high degree of integrity and is very dependable and reliable. I know I can depend on him to do what he says he will do, and to do it with quality as a priority. He is very organized, resourceful and shows a lot of initiative, all very important attributes to have.

Another quality that makes Aaron successful is his ability to work with people. He is well liked and respected by the students, teachers, and administrators he works with. He is a good listener and does an excellent job of explaining to his students exactly what is expected of them. He follows instructions well and if he does not clearly understand the instructions, he will ask questions for clarification.

I am proud Aaron has asked me to write this letter of recommendation for him.

Sincerely,

Aaron Ayers
Dean of Student Learning
